

CONTENTS

Foreword	vi
Acknowledgments	viii
1. Learning-Centered School Renewal , Bruce Joyce and Emily Calhoun	1
The Programs	1
Programmatic Similarities and Differences	3
Gleanings	4
Summary	11
2. The River City Program: Staff Development Becomes School Improvement , Beverly Showers, Carlene Murphy, and Bruce Joyce	13
Setting and Context	13
Planning the MOT Program: Trying to Build a Community of Understanding	16
The River City MOT Program: Year 1	28
Extent of Implementation	38
Effects on Students	48
Summary	51
3. The University Town Program: Exploring Governance Structures , Bruce Joyce, Emily Calhoun, Nina Carran, Jay Simser, Dallas Rust, and Cal Halliburton	53
The University Town Program	54
The District and the School as a Learning Center for Faculty and Students	55
Design of the Studies	59
The Interview Study: Teacher Satisfaction and Productivity	61
The Study of Quality of Writing	78
Summary and Reflections on the University Town Program	90
4. Readersville: Building a Culture of Readers and Writers , Bruce Joyce and James M. Wolf	95

Beginning: A Concern about Reading	95
Making the Initiative	100
The Second Year	104
The Third Year and Beyond	111
Applications in Other Settings	112
The Social-Psychological Dimension	113
Summary: Equity and Efficacy	115
5. The Inner City Program: A Voyage with Staff Development, Bruce Joyce, Beverly Showers, and Henry Izumizaki	117
The Larger Context	118
Focusing the Inner City Inquiry	121
Generating Initiatives:
Increasing the Capacity of Inner City to Improve	123
Assessing Implementation:
Lessons Learned from the Experience	126
Lessons for the Next Time Around	133
Summary and Commentary	134
6. The Action Network: Action Research on Action Research, Emily Calhoun and Lew Allen	137
The Nature of Schoolwide Action Research	138
Historical Perspective on Action Research for Organizational Change	138
The Georgia League: Premises and Operations	142
The Study of Action Research in League Schools	146
Summary of Findings on the Action-Research Process	149
Cultural Dimensions and Normative Stances	160
Improving the Process of Action Research	168
Reflections and Current Advice	173
7. School Renewal: An Inquiry, Not a Prescription, Bruce Joyce and Emily Calhoun	175
Interpretations	175
Directions in School Improvement	178
Recreating the School Through Inquiry	180
Inquiry Never Ends	190
Appendix	191
Bibliography	198
Contributors	207
Reviewers	208